

Nu/Clean AQUABATCH

Aqueous Batch Cleaners

The Nu/Clean AquaBatch family of aqueous batch cleaners include the AquaBatch XL and the AquaBatch JR.

Both cleaners feature touch screen controls, fast cycle times, industrial grade stainless steel process chambers with viewing windows, and rotating spray bars with coherent jet technology incorporating random vectorized spray patterns. This allows cleaning fluid to flow even under low stand off components.

The AquaBatch series can be configured to work in tandem with a D.I. Elite Water Treatment System.

With available features such as Closed Loop Wash, Closed Loop Rinse, Zero Discharge, and Wastewater Evaporator -- there is an AquaBatch system to meet your cleaning requirements.

TECHNICAL DEVICES COMPANY

Since 1952, TECHNICAL DEVICES COMPANY has been providing the electronics manufacturing industry with quality production equipment. Our cleaners are MADE IN AMERICA by highly skilled workers who take pride in what they do. We strive to remain on the cutting edge of cleaning technology by constantly adding new features and diligently improving existing features. We have taken this approach ever since we started in the aqueous batch cleaning industry in 1991, before some of our competitors even started their companies. This is why the Nu/Clean AquaBatch is among the safest, most effective, and most energy efficient aqueous batch cleaners available on the market today.
